RADICAL RULE SPREADS

Rhine Provinces Affected; Former German Leaders There Under Arrest; Bolsheviks in Baltic Provinces
Slaughtering Germans by Wholesale

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Jan. 11.—Dr. Karl Liebknecht, the Spartacan leader in Germany, was killed during street fighting on Thursday evening, according to a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company.

Several dispatches from the Associated Press correspondent in Berlin, filed on Friday up to 3 o'clock in the afternoon and received here this morning, contain no mention of the report of death of Dr. Liebknecht. The dispatches, in fact, do not refer to happenings in Berlin but deal with events in the provinces or with press comments.

Delayed Amsterdam advices dated Thursday contain reports of further activity by the Spartacans in the Rhine towns. They apparently control Dusseldorf, where several prominent persons were arrested while many others only escaped arrest by crossing the Rhine. The Muenster Anzeiger reports that the Spartacans stormed the prison in Muenster and set free 170 criminals.

At Mulheim, during a big demonstration of strikers on Wednesday, the strikers seized all newspaper buildings and issued the General Anzeiger next morning as "The Red Flag." They forbade the issuance of all other newspapers. Private residences were ransacked by mobs which were dispersed by the police.

BOLSHEVIKI SLAUGHTERING GERMANS IN BALTIC REGION.

BERLIN, Jan. 11.—The Bolsheviks are slaughtering the Germans in the section of the Baltic provinces which have recently come under control of the Bolsheviks, according to Herr Winning, the former German minister to the Baltic provinces.

Three men from the German legation who remained behind in Riga, relying upon their diplomatic immunity, were arrested, the former minister reports, and public funds amounting to 500,000 marks were confiscated.

SEVERE FIGHTING IN BERLIN CONTINUES.

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 11.—Very serious fighting occurred Friday in Dresden, Hamburg, Augsburg and Dusseldorf, according to reports received here. The fighting was most severe in Hamburg, and is still in progress. The government troops in Berlin have not yet succeeded in crushing the Spartacans who still hold newspaper rows. The fighting for the newspaper buildings has lasted since Wednesday and cannon and flame-throwers now are being used with many fatalities resulting.

Bolshevism and Other Dangerous
Cults Are Vigorously Condemned.

DECLARE FOR SUFFRAGE

By Constitutional Amendment; Against Government Ownership of Utilities
and Sectionalism in Taxation; Chairman Hayes Is Given Free Hand.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Declaring for universal female suffrage, and applauding speeches condemning Socialism, Bolshevism and government ownership, the Republican National Committee yesterday conferred on Chairman Will H. Hayes what was taken to be full power in conduct of affairs of the party in its efforts to defeat the Democrats at the next national election.

Mr. Hayes opened the meeting with prayer, the first time that had ever been done.

Resolutions laudatory of Theodore Roosevelt were adopted as introduced by John T. King of Connecticut, and plans were made to erect a memorial to the deceased by popular subscription.

The Democratic administration was denounced for what was termed its tendency toward Socialism, and for placing the control of government departments in the hands of the minority of the South while the majority of the north paid 90 per cent of the taxes.

It was declared by Chairman Hayes and others that it is too early to consider a candidate for President, but many names were mentioned in the informal talk of committee men.

Two women took part in the deliberations as holders of proxies, and their assistance was sought in all the doings of the meeting.

Mr. Medill McCormick of Illinois, chairman of the Women's Executive Committee, read a long report outlining plans for women's organizations in every state and for the active participation of women in the national affairs of the party.

Governor Burroughs of Rhode Island referred to the recent victory of the Republicans in the congressional elections, and said that the people of the North were tired of paying 90 per cent of the taxes, and having it expended by the majority of the South, which dominated the Democratic national administration.

Governor Burroughs of Minnesota denounced Bolshevism, anarchy and Socialism, and said the hope of the country for the future was in the election of a Republican President.

The committee gave Chairman Hayes a vote of confidence and authorized him to name an executive and other committees at his discretion.

MT. PLEASANT PALE

Special to The Courier.
MOUNT PLEASANT, Jan. 11.—Scarcity of kindling wood in the neighborhood of Laureville, a few miles to the east of this place, is said to have prompted two young men of that village to pilfer the cover of a rough-box from the cemetery of Mount Joy Church of the Brethren, near Laureville, according to a report to the police here. The identity of the men is said to be known but whether there will be arrests has not been announced. Substitution of corrugated paper board for wood for packing boxes has resulted in a dearth of that latter material which once was supplied in large quantities by the merchants.

Millions of Letters Being Sent to Dead Letter Office to Be Returned to Writers at Home.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—From eight to 10 carloads of mail for American soldiers are undelivered in France. Second Assistant Postmaster General Prager told the Senate Post-office Committee today, and "thousands and probably millions" of letters addressed to the men overseas will arrive in New York going to be sent to the dead letter office, where an attempt will be made to return them to the writers.

Blame for the failure to deliver this mail was placed on the War Department by Mr. Prager, who again explained that the armies handle all soldiers' mail in France, the Postoffice Department delivering outgoing mail at Hoboken and receiving returning mail at the French ports.

PARKING OF WEST
PENN CARS DOWN TOWN PROTESTED

Mayor Duggan Takes Matter
Up Formally With Trolley Company Head.

LAYOVER HERE TOO LONG

Executive Suggests That If Cars Are Delayed in Passing Through City and Must Be Held That They Be Held on West Side or on Pineapple.

In a letter to the traffic manager of the West Penn Railways company, Mayor John Duggan has issued a strong protest against the parking of the trolley cars in West Crawford avenue in front of the station here, "for 15 and 20 minutes at a time." The mayor suggests that the cars be taken to the West Side switch or to the switch at the east end of the city and held there, instead of blocking traffic in the main thoroughfare of the city.

The practice of the West Penn in allowing cars to stand in West Crawford avenue after passengers have been unloaded has been taken up by council several times. The police have instructed all traffic to stop until the cars are unloaded and loaded. When the street cars do not move, however, after the passengers are off, the street is blocked with vehicles waiting to go in both directions, it is claimed.

The mayor points out that when a car is running late it is often held here until the next car comes in, and then the two are run as double-deckers. In holding the car in Crawford avenue, he says, traffic is tied up. The mayor says he can appreciate the necessity for holding the cars, but asks that they be held either on the West Side or in the east end, where there is no heavy traffic. "This is a ridiculous condition to the city and public in general," says the letter written by the mayor. Continuing he writes:

"If we knew when you were going to park the cars in this manner we might have a traffic man there to help relieve the congestion. Some time ago we suggested that the West Penn place an officer at this point. Our suggestion has not been complied with. If you persist in congesting this part of the city we will have to pass such ordinances as will give our people a reasonable amount of privilege on our streets so as not to impede traffic."

The mayor also points out that the street is completely blocked at times on Saturday nights, when five or six cars are run into the switch in Crawford avenue at one time. Council's objection, he says, is that the cars do not depart immediately they have discharged the passengers and taken on new ones, but remain motionless until another car has come in from the West Side. The mayor declares the company could allow the cars to pass on the West Side instead of blocking the entire street on the busiest night of the week.

Petitions Supplementary Thereto Placed in Circulation
in Region.

LARGE FUND TO BE RAISED

Executive Committee of 11 Members Is Named to Conduct Canvass For Funds and Look After Circulation
of Popular Petitions of Protest.

Formal protest against the increase in rates proposed by the West Penn Railways company for inauguration on January 27, went forward today to the Public Service Commission at Harrisburg, and supplementary and financial petitions will be placed in circulation throughout the territory covered by the West Penn. The petitions to be filed with the commission were signed last night at a meeting in Uniontown of representative committees from different points covered by the trolley system.

The formal protest demands that the West Penn be required to show why its proposed increase of rates is necessary, and also to show that the system of zones provided by the new schedule is reasonable, just and convenient.

Mayor John Duggan of this city, who was named head of the executive committee formed last night, said this morning there were three points which could be considered.

The first, he said, was that the West Penn had either been losing money or "is going into the pioneering business strong."

The second is that in every zone between Connellsville and Uniontown an increase of 100 per cent over the old rates is proposed. The West Penn, he declared, could not show where expenses doubled. The same number of crews and cars are still used, he added.

Third, the mayor declared, is that the last statement issued by the company a short time ago showed ample earnings and the payment of a dividend. "How they expect to camouflage these things so as to convince the commission they are losing money is beyond us."

Specific complaints of the protestants as drawn up in Uniontown, are: That the corporation, West Penn Railways company, be required to show that the increase in its rates of fare as provided and set forth in the schedule filed, to become effective January 27, 1919, is necessary and reasonable.

That the said corporation be required to show that the system of zones provided by said schedule is reasonable, just and convenient.

That a hearing be had upon this complaint of petition and that a day be fixed for that purpose at which such supplemental orders may be entered as may be necessary for the proper disposition of this case according to the public service law of Pennsylvania.

An executive committee was appointed to work in conjunction with the general protest committee in matter, pertaining to the contest. That committee consist of 11 members with six forming a quorum and each member has authority to organize a sub-committee in his own district to carry on the work. The executive committee, with one representative in each district, follows:

William L. Wood, Uniontown.
Charles Wilson, Fairmont.
R. B. Hays, Nesquehoning.
John R. Byrne, Republic.
James S. Craft, Brownsville.
L. S. Kerchner, Dunbar.
S. E. Deamone, Connellsville.
John R. Byrne, Elverson.
S. P. Stevens, Mount Pleasant.
Harry Young, Greensburg.
Youngwood to be supplied.

The protest committee formed a permanent organization by the election of Mayor John Duggan of Connellsville, chairman; Attorney Charles L. Lowellyn, secretary, and S. W. Motzler, treasurer. Payments on contributions made to fight the West Penn increase will be made to Mr. Motzler.

No definite information is yet available as to the amount of funds required to make the contest but it was decided that the subscription papers would be circulated with the idea of securing $10,000. When a decision is reached and it is found there is still money in the treasury it will be returned upon a percentage basis of contributions.

Popular petitions of protest will be circulated throughout the region traversed by the West Penn.

SEWICKLEY FALLS BEFORE LOCALS IN OPENING BALL GAME

Initial of Western Pennsylvania
Scholastic League Proves to be Auspicious Occasion.

The Connelville high school basketball team opened the local season of the Western Pennsylvania Inter-Scholastic Amateur league last night with a victory, defeating the Sewickley high aggregation 45-28. In the first half of the game, the score was close, the lead of the locals seldom being more than four points. When the half ended the score stood at 18-16.

Although Connelville won by a big margin, the locals did not play a faultless game. There were several moments, especially in the first half, when the visitors, unguarded, dropped the sphere into the basket. Connelville tightened up in the later periods and by playing a closer guarding game held down the Sewickley score. In the third period Sewickley scored only three points, moving up from 16 to 19 points.

By the end of the third quarter, Coach Bode had removed four of the varsity and the substitutes who went in carried on the same fast pace that had been set by the regulars. The second string men this year keep the regulars stepping to hold their positions.

Connelville appeared in bright new uniforms which brought forth much favorable comment among the female spectators. The bright colors worn this year are quite a contrast to those of last season. A big crowd filled the gymnasium, every available seat being taken. Connelville plays Johnstown high next Friday evening.

Other results yesterday were: Bradstreet 38, Turtle Creek 19; Wilkesburg 37, Shadyside 32.

The line-up:

Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Schell of Somerset have received a letter from their son, Lieutenant Wilbur E. Schell of Company C, who was taken a prisoner by the Germans on July 15. Lieutenant Schell writes that he is in an American hospital in France and that he expects to return to the States soon. He states that his wounds are not serious, one in the back and one in the knee, both made by shell fragments.

PHYSICALLY FIT
AT ANY AGE

It isn't age, it's careless living that puts men "down and out." Keep your internal organs in good condition and you will always be physically fit. The kidneys are the most over-worked organs in the human body. When they break down under the strain and the deadly uric acid accumulates and crystallizes look out! These sharp crystals tear and scratch the delicate urinary channels causing excruciating pain and set up irritations which may cause premature degeneration and often do turn into deadly uric acid.

One of the first warnings of sluggish kidney action is pain or stiffness in the small of the back, loss of appetite, indigestion or rheumatism. Do not wait until the danger is upon you. At the first indication of trouble go after the cause at once. Get a trial box of GOLD MEDAL, Hargreave Laboratories in Holland. They will give almost immediate relief. If for any cause they should not, your money will be refunded. But if you get GOLD MEDAL. None other is genuine. In sealed boxes, three sizes.

Plenty of exercise, fresh air, regular hours—is all the prescription you need to avoid influenza—unless through neglect or otherwise, a cold gets you. Then take—at once

MANAGER HUGGINS IS LUCKY
Only Three of His Players Who Enlisted Have Gone Overseas—All Second-String Men.

Manager Huggins of the Yankees, who have close to his pre-war strength when next season comes around, for only three of the Yankees who have enlisted have gone overseas. It is even possible that these may have returned by the time the spring training begins. Incidentally, all of them are second-string players. The former Yankees now known to be on foreign soil are Pitcher Bob McGraw, Outfielder Howard Camp and Outfielder Sam Vick. It is possible that Bob Shawkey may not be available in the spring, since he is in the navy.

All the other Yankees who left the team during the period of the war are in this country.

Where a Motion Was Just as Good.
In the woods just west of Thau court a lieutenant in the sanitary corps went out to test the water in a near-by spring. While he was on this job he looked up just in time to see two Boches advancing. Although armed with nothing deadlier than a first-aid pouch, he made a motion toward his right hip. Immediately both Boches, catching the motion lifted their hands in surrender.

"Other Boches soon came forward from the woods, and each, coming suddenly upon the officer still making threatening motions toward his pistolless hip, surrendered in turn.

By the time a sergeant and five Yankee privates came along the lieutenant had a bag of 10 German prisoners to turn over to them.—Stars and Stripes.

To persons who do more or less shopping in Pittsburgh throughout the year, we say

"Open a Charge Account at Rosenbaum's"

The advantages are manifold. By opening a charge account at Rosenbaum's you establish a permanent city headquarters—you save time when in the city—it sometimes saves the expense of a trip to the city by permitting you to order by mail as you desire and pay for purchases at the end of the month in a single payment. A charge account permits purchases by mail, phone or telegraph without the customary remittance of 25 percent as a guarantee of good faith—the fact that you have a charge account here is your guarantee.

Responsible persons residing out of the city may open charge accounts on the same plan as persons living right in Pittsburgh. We invite investigation of the many advantages in a charge account at "The Store Ahead in The City Ahead."

Rosenbaum Charge patrons save money—they are enabled to take advantage of the many special sales opportunities presented throughout the year—whether the money is immediately available or not.

You would no doubt be surprised if you could see the names of out-of-town persons who are on our list—you would recognize some of them as your closest friends—neighbors.

Wherever this invitation appears there are persons we would be pleased to welcome as charge customers.

One of the greatest advantages of a Rosenbaum charge account is the fact that when a shopping trip is contemplated there is no necessity for providing yourself with large sums of money—you buy what you want, have it charged and pay for it upon receipt of your bill at the end of the month. An advantage that will be highly appreciated.

A postal card request for a charge account will have our immediate attention. Address The Rosenbaum Company, Department of Credits, Pittsburgh, Pa.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than mustard plaster and does not blister. Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

The Three Sisters Economical Heating System

The Home

Comfort should be the main feature of every home and everything else should be subservient thereto.

The health of its occupants should be given first consideration. Without health no one can enjoy life. One may possess all of the luxuries obtainable but if the home is unsatisfactorily heated both health and happiness are jeopardized.

Health and comfort depend upon the proper temperature of the home and to secure the same an ample supply of pure, fresh, warm air is essential. This may be obtainable by the installation of an adequate warm air heating system, such as The Three Sisters Economical Heating System, which warms and ventilates the whole house, distributing mildly-temperate air to rooms to be heated and maintaining an ideal temperature therein, supplying to the pure warm air the necessary degree of temperature to make it absolutely wholesome and delightful to live in and breathe, in direct contrast to the dry and unhealthy atmosphere which is produced by steam and hot water systems of heating.

Many people are able to spend their winters in milder climates. Those who remain at home can and should breathe an atmosphere as balmy as that which their more fortunate neighbors enjoy.

Warm fresh air is essential to health, and the installation of a system which will insure pure warm air in home, church, school or workshop is the best investment that can be made irrespective of price. The Chicago Health Department in Bulletin No. 46 quotes Dr. D. H. Kress of Washington, D. C., who says that the more oxygen (fresh air) we admit to the lungs the brighter the fire of life will burn and more pronounced is the energy experienced. When only a small amount of oxygen is admitted, depression and lack of energy result. When this occurs this authority says that what is needed is not more fuel, but more air. It therefore stands to reason that pure air within a home or other building promotes efficiency which certainly has an economic value even in the home where a given amount of work has to be done daily.

Methods of Heating

There are various methods of heating with which house-owners are familiar. All are successful in producing heat if of proper size and construction and intelligently operated. Each system has its advocates, and each is adapted for heating certain types of buildings. For the home nothing approaches the warm air heater. It is, of course, understood that no system of heating will give satisfactory results unless it is adequate in size and properly installed. In countless thousands of homes there have been installed unsatisfactory and defective heaters of all classes and descriptions. The existence of these failures has led to the wholesale condemnation of warm air, steam and hot water systems of heating. This is unjust. There is no need here to review the causes of these failures, but in passing it may be truthfully said that the house owner in too many cases has accepted the lowest bid on his heating job and has suffered in consequence. A good heating job even though it may cost more than the house owner thinks it should be more economical in the long run than a poor job. Competition among manufacturers has led to the production of numerous cheap, light-weight furnaces, which are short lived and expensive to operate and these types should be avoided. This is the class of furnace which has been installed in the row of houses erected by contractors, for sale. Much depends upon the installation of a warm air furnace, the kind of pipes used, and the proper insulation of same.

Methods of Burning Fuel

Granted that you have considered the various systems of heating and have decided for your home to use warm air we assume that you are interested in the method of burning fuel to be used therein and in the kind of fuel to be used. Hard coal is preferred by many, but it is very expensive in comparison with soft coal of the cheaper grades. You may hesitate to use soft coal owing to the experiences of your friends, which have had with top draft and underfeed types of soft coal furnaces, many of which have been widely advertised and have not given in any case satisfactory results. This should not prejudice you against the use of this fuel if you find it to your advantage financially or otherwise to do so. There is an absolute clean and efficient method of burning soft coal which is known as the down draft method.

What DePolo Says, Down Draft Means and Does

Down draft means to bring the air in on top of the body of the fuel and to pass it down through the several stages of the same, discharging the gases at a very high temperature at or near the grate line.

By this method of combustion a temperature is created far in excess of that produced by the ordinary method of burning fuel. The intense heat is caused by two elements opposing each other at a point of gas discharge in the fuel body. The gases in the burning fuel try to force their way into the fuel chamber, and the incoming air through the draft door opposes them. The two forces meeting each other create a blast developing very intense heat.

By the production of this great heat many gases are consumed that pass off unconsumed in the ordinary type of furnace. Therefore this system may rightly be called "smokeless," although at times there may be gases passing from the chimney that show color. This only happens in starting a new fire or adding fuel.

There is a total absence of soot at all times, the gases being consumed before they can get a chance to condense.

This method of burning fuel has been known by DePolo for many years. The chief reason for its not being perfected before was on account of the lack of a proper method of protecting the castings from the intense heat. This we have done successfully with the brick liners. They contain all the ingredients necessary to meet the requirements of the situation and will successfully withstand the high temperature produced.

The Three Sisters Economical Heating System is receiving excellent reports from the installations of their heaters. In many cases they have produced results far beyond expectations both in economy and satisfaction.

This method of burning coal (soft) extracts from the fuel a larger proportion of the heat units than is possible with any other system and therefore very largely reduces the cost of heating residences and other buildings. So great is the consumption that within a few years the entire cost of the heater will be saved in addition to securing the most ideal heat obtainable. This method also permits the utilization of comparatively small firepots and thus overcomes the loss of heat units unavoidable when large pots are used inasmuch as such pots contain in their centers masses of fuel which do not come in contact with the heating surfaces and thus render inefficient surface.

This method permits the use of the cheapest grade of soft coal and does not require excessive manual labor in its operation. The enamel tile heater, hot air and radium clay heating with up and down draft permits the use of the cheapest grade of coal dust, with better results. In every respect this method is a distinct advance over any and all others.

Heating "Don'ts" for the Coming Winter

DON'T spend half your year's income for a furnace. DON'T let 75% of your heat escape through your chimneys.

DON'T have plumbers' bills to meet every month. DON'T burn one hundred bushels of coal when fifty will be sufficient.

The Three Sisters Economic Heating System make these things possible. Not a pipeless furnace, but a heating system that furnishes maximum heat at a minimum expense.

Seeing is believing. See our demonstration.

A New Industry

Has been added to Connellsville's growing list. The Three Sisters Economic Heating System, owned and controlled exclusively by local business men, has opened sales and demonstrating rooms in the Smutz Building, opposite the Pennsylvania depot, West Side. The company specializes in economic hot air and radium clay heating and is sole patentee of the Three Sisters Down Draft Furnace. Manufacture of enamel tile has begun in the company's own plant at South Connellsville.

THEOISSON.

"TEMPERED STEEL"—A five part production, starring Madame Petrova, the celebrated screen star, is being shown today. The picture was shown yesterday by large audiences and was pronounced the best attraction in which Madame Petrova has ever appeared. Her support is excellent and there is not a dull moment.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"PECK'S BAD GIRL"—A Goldwyn feature in which Mabel Normand is seen in a delightful role, is being shown today. For her leading man the picture star has Earl Fox. "Peck's Bad Girl" is a comedy drama. Miss Normand is seen as Mabel Penelope Peck, who has long borne the reputation of being the village scamp of Yaptank. From childhood her pranks have been the bane of the neighborhood. A change comes into her life after Richard Hayes comes to Yaptank, apparently as a jewelry salesman, but in reality a detective, assigned to capture a band of robbers who he has learned, are plotting to rob the Yaptank bank. Mabel gets a job in a millinery store owned by Hortense Marriot and later assists in bringing about the arrest of the robbers. A selected comedy is also being shown. Monday Emmy Wehlen, the charming Metro star, will appear in "The Bonded Wife," a screen production of unusual interest.

Brother of Late Les Has Created Quite a Stir in Boxing Circles at Newcastle.

Young Jack Darcy, a sixteen-year-old brother of the late Les Darcy of Australia, and said to be a replica of his famous and greatly mourned brother, both in appearance and ring methods, has created quite a stir in Newcastle boxing circles. Of his first six bouts he won five by knockouts.

COKE DEVELOPMENTS IN 1918.

There are several anomalies and some very significant facts presented by 'The Weekly Courier's' review of the coke trade of the Conneltsville region for the year 1918.

That the gross revenue derived from the output was $6,700,000 greater than in 1917, when the tonnage was larger by 1,657,000, would be paradoxical were it not known that much of the coke made and delivered in 1918 was sold in 1917, when the market price was ranging from $3.00 to $3.00 for furnace coke, and before the price was fixed at $6.00 by executive order.

In consequence those consumers who had covered their requirements for 1918 paid more than the government prices for coke consumed during that year than they had paid during the three months immediately preceding.

This singular condition had the effect of increasing the average realized price of 1918's output to $7.25, or $1.00 per ton more than during 1917
when the market price was much higher but the bulk of the year's deliveries were at the comparatively low prices established by the contracts
made in 1918.

Another somewhat unexpected revelation of 1918's statistics was that the aggregate fuel tonnage, when the coke was reduced to its coal equivalent, was practically the same as in the preceding year, notwithstanding the coke production was 1,657,000 tons less. It was well known throughout the year that the weekly output of coke was constantly under that of the average of 1917, and it was a foregone conclusion that the year's total would show a marked decline from that of 1917. It was not so generally known, however, that the shipments of raw coal destined largely for the by-product coke plants, were gaining in such an extent that the loss in coke was being compensated by the increase in coal.

This is one of the significant developments of the year, indicating, as it does, the steady progress in the transformation of the Conneltsville region
from a coke manufacturing to a coal producing center. The impetus given to the by-product industry by the war resulted in so material an addition to the number and productive capacity of the by-product ovens that for the year as a whole the output of the latter represented 45 per cent of the total coke production in the United States. Beginning in October by-product production exceeded that of the beehive ovens which fact makes correct and apt the observation of the United States Geological Survey that, "the year 1918 should definitely and finally record the passing of the supremacy from the beehive to the
by-product ovens."

It is idle to speculate upon what would have happened had the Conneltsville region been free of the many and extraordinary handicaps to its operation during 1918. Possibly the only concrete result of the absence of these restrictions would have been a larger output, which might have prevented to some degree the vigorous activity in by-product oven building, thereby deferring the time when the beehive ovens would cease to be dependent upon the production of more than 50 per cent of the coke
used in the industries.

That such a period has already arrived will cause no alarm in the Conneltsville region, its coming having been long anticipated but hastened by the war. Conneltsville coke will be in demand, but in gradually lessened
quantity, so long as facilities exist for its production, while the region's incomparable coal will be as necessary in the production of standard by-product coke as it has previously been necessary in the manufacture of "the standard metallurgical fuel of the world."

Soldiers who braved death to send heavy home were of the men who could be depended upon to send the Huns to their long home.

The names of Edward von Mach, the Harvard professor who wrote the bulk of British propaganda in this country, suggests the possibility that he may have a familiarity with another breed
of this animal.

Tomorrow's promised cold wave is not likely to be so severe that you cannot make your weekly pilgrimage to the church of your choice with comfort or say nothing of the pleasure and profit you will derive from the discharge of your duty.

It has seemed almost impossible that any government department could outnumber the Bureauized Postoffice Department, but the War Department's failure to handle the soldiers' mail on-times it to the Postoffice Service, Crows with a whole bundle of pains.

The announcement is now made that "public sentiment is to be the main guide of the President in peace work."
What has become of those much-heralded indices, the "14 points" that were to inaugurate a millennium of international good fellowship?

The Republican Nominee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The Republican Publicity association, through its president, Jonathan Bourne, Jr., today gave out the following statement:

"That the next president of the United States will be a Republican is indicated by all the signs of the times.

There rests upon the rank and file of the Republican party, therefore, the responsibility of selecting the man who shall be their nominee, and, as a consequence, the chief executive of the nation. We say that the responsibility rests upon the rank and file, for, under present systems of nomination, the voters exercise a very direct influence upon the choice. In fact, nearly a third of the states have presidential primaries.

"In discussion of the nomination of candidates and the election of a President in 1920 it will be fortunate for the Republican party if discussion of types of men shall precede discussion of individuals. It will be well if we get away from the notion that a candidate should be chosen chiefly upon the theory that he is a good 'vote getter,' with minor consideration of the sort of record he will make when elected. The duty resting upon Republicans is to select as their nominee
the man who will probably serve the nation best, if elected, and then if their candidate be not elected, the responsibility will not be theirs. It will also be well to get away from the fallacious and misleading notion that a candidate must be selected because of geographical location. It is a wicked perversion of popular government to assume that a man is barred from the presidency either because he occupies an office in New York or has his habitat among the growing industries of far off Arizona.

"What this nation needs, first of all,
is a president who believes in the American system of government—a government divided into three branches, legislative, executive and judicial, each performing faithfully and efficiently its own duties and not attempting to dictate the acts or policies of the others. Experience has shown that waste and inefficiency result from neglect of administrative duties by an executive who tries to run
the legislative branch of government.

"This nation needs a president who has had broad training and experience in the practical affairs of the world and of government. We have suffered irreparable injury from the halting and vacillating eccentricities of theorists whose chief skill is in making fine phrases that mean anything or nothing as subsequent events may conveniently demand. We need a president whose associations and sympathies have been with the producers of the country, for upon the prosperity of the producers the future greatness of this nation must rest. We use the word 'producers' in its broadest sense. Some consideration, but of a secondary sort,
may be given to people who class
themselves only as consumers.

"There are three classes of men whose training and habits of thought unfit them for the presidency. These are school masters, professional military men and men who have served long on the bench. Men of these classes have been removed from close relation with the world of affairs.
They have become accustomed to receive obsequious obedience. They have formed the mental habits of a dictator —habits that are antithetical rather than overcome by election to the presidency. This country needs a servant,
not a master, in the White House.
Under our form of government, the people, through their representatives in Congress, make the laws, and the president is charged with the duty of executing them.

"There are plenty of men in the Republican party who have the qualifications for successful administration of the office of chief executive. Full, friendly and frank discussion will bring them to public attention."

TROUBLE.

Trouble is an exercise
Sent to by a wisdom-winner
Than the mind of man possesses.
Doubts and dangers and distresses
Come not purposely to best us,
But to strengthen us and test us.

He who never gets in tangles
Soon has soft and flabby muscles.
He who, fearing hurt and bruises,
Guards his strength grows weak and loses.

All the power he thought to nourish
Strong men by his trials flourish.

Never was a stately figure,
But by trouble was made bigger.
Cares a man has borne and still bears
Prove how much he can and will bear.

He is strongest of your neighbors
Who performs the heaviest labors.

Not from easy ways and tender
Brilliant minds receive their spiendor.

But from problems deep, perplexing,
And from solving questions vexing,
(Nightly pondering wisdom's pages)
Come the master of the sages.

Trouble is an exercise
Sent to make us stronger, wiser—
Sent to make us bolder, better;
It is not a chain or fetter
Or a snare to trap and beat us,
It is just life's way to test us.

SOME OTHER THINGS.

Oh, partners, let us not forever discuss the war and what it cost; it is not war or peace or clever-war're all convinced war was a feat. We'll have to turn our faces forward, and think be always getting warward, or making faces at the Min. When we are returning in the gloaming we may thrash out the fact once more, and tell the rest another evening, and give the tale of bones and gore. But in the daytime we're excited to put on nineteen kinds of games, to wait days things were much neglected, and now re-

BOSTON RED SOX PLAYERS SHOWED GREAT FANCY FOR SEA LIFE AT OUTBREAK OF WAR

DEL CADNER CHICK SHORTEN ERNIE SHORE
STARS WHO ARE EXPECTED TO RETURN TO BOSTON.

Announcement by the navy department that it soon will release a hundred thousand men, or practically one-third of its forces, is good news to the Boston American League club, for Red Sox players, as is well remembered, showed a great fancy for sea life when the war came to call them from the diamond. Here are three brave sailor laddies who soon may be changing their navy blue for the old Red Sox uniforms and each one of them can be used to advantage. Shorten in his brief service with the club showed a lot of class. Everybody knows what sort of a first baseman Gahner is. And why speak of Ernie Shore—there is no better pitcher. Shore has said he might stick to the navy, but Boston fans hope not. They think that he would look much better in the box than on the quarter deck even.

KUMAGAE IS GOOD IMITATOR

Japanese Tennis Player Owes His Championship Form to His Ability to Copy Rivals.

The Japs have been noted as husling fighters ever since the day Commodore Perry paid his famous visit to the little brown men. This oriental trait is manifesting itself in sports tennis and golf appeal especially to the far easterner. Ichiya Kumagae, most capable of the Japanese tennis players, gives plenty of proof how his countrymen copy their foreign models, says an eastern sport critic.

Two years ago Kumagae competed in the national championship at Forest Hills. His was the old traditional English game, everything from the baseline. The system got the little brown visitor past two rounds. Then Mr. Kumagae encountered George Church, who plays the aggressive net game so popular with American stars. The Jap was a discouraged and pathetic little figure as he chased around the court first one side then the other trying desperately to compete with his opponent's scorching way of putting the ball just out of reach.

Kumagae learned well his lesson. He went back to his flowery kingdom and practiced the latest model of tennis playing, particularly the method of choking 'em off at the net.

Kumagae is back among us again, a greatly improved racket wielder.

The financial report of the athletic council of the University of Pennsylvania shows that for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1918, covering one year of wartime sports, the university sustained 15 branches of sport, paid off fixed charges amounting to $10,725 and sustained a net loss of only $1,048. The football season of 1917 showed a net profit of $38,113. In addition, there were small profits in basketball, gymnastics and relay races. All other sport showed loss, baseball showing a net loss of $2,763.

MANHATTAN PLAYERS.

In spite of the fact that several of the Manhattan Players are still in the service of Uncle Sam, Manager Hill has succeeded in gathering together the best stock company in America this season. Monday matinee, January 13, will bring the favorite company back to the Soisson with a repertoire of brand new comedies and comedy dramas never before offered at popular prices. As the opening bill Mr. Hill announces William A. Brady's brilliant play, "Sinners," exactly as presented at the Playhouse, New York, for one solid year. From a scenic point of view it will be Edgar Selwyn's mirthful farce comedy, "Nearly Married," conceded to be the most laughable comedy the stage has known in a decade. The company includes Glenn Coulter, William Butler, Leonard Rowe, Joseph Lyonnell, Chick Mason, Wimpie Wilmer, Rose Adelle, Pearl Young, Mabel Leverton and Pauline Brown. Between acts some excellent vaudeville features will entertain.

RALPH SLIGER IS BACK WITH HIS CO. LETTER HOME SAYS

Has it "Pretty Soft" Since Hostilities Ended on November 11.

BOSOM FRIEND TAKEN ILL

Name is Hilton and is "The Best Friend I Ever Had," Courier Linotype Operator Says, in Telling of It; Is With Dickerson Run Boy.

Writing to his wife from France, Ralph Sliger, a Courier employe, tells of being located in a little French village where he is "taking it easy" after a 14-day hike. He says he is glad at last to be sleeping in a house with a real fire that they never let go out. The letter in part follows:

"I am back with my company now and am glad. I came back on Monday, having from Cruzy-le-Chateau to the place where Company H is located, Quincroet.

"I have it pretty soft now, so I should worry about the town. Every day I make a trip to another town and back, the round trip being about 10 kilometres. The day I don't make the trip, I don't have a thing to do.

"I really don't know when we are coming home, but I think we might get there by January. We understand that we will not be in the Army of Occupation. So we stand good chances of getting home soon. The captain at headquarters must have forgotten about making corporals out of us men at regimentals, but he may come across later.

"I sleep inside a house now—a real house, as French houses go, and we have a fireplace in which we never let the fire go out. There are three of us, a fellow by the name of John Luce from Dickerson Run and Dexter from Pittsburgh. You know my friend Hilton is in the hospital. I miss him, as I consider him as the best friend I ever had. He and I were chums. He is a great strong chap but exposure on that long 14-day hike of ours was too much for him. He has influenza.

"On November 22 we came to the end of a long day's march. The second battalion stopped off in town for the night and stayed there all the next day. I was with headquarters company at the time, so I and all the rest of the regiment went on past the town to a large swampy field and pitched our tents. The fog was so heavy that it came through the tent and made our blankets wet. The next morning I took down my tent and moved into town to sleep the next night with Company H.

"When I got there Hilton was pretty sick. I took him to the infirmary and they sent him from there to the hospital. I had a letter from him yesterday and he was getting along pretty good.

"In this letter I am going to try and give you an outline of things since I left Camp Lee. If I can remember them. Perhaps it won't be very interesting to you and then again it may. The most interesting thing to me just now is getting back to the old U. S. A.

"We left Camp Lee and boarded an Italian boat at Norfolk on May 17, 1918. I thought it was a big boat. We were packed in there just like sardines, with a place to sleep and plenty to eat. We were allowed on deck at any time but had to keep the portholes closed and were not allowed to have lights at night on account of the subs.

"It was a smooth voyage except for about two days and then water at times dashed on the deck and the weather was cold. The wind blew pretty hard at times and as we were supposed to eat our meals on deck the wind sometimes blew some of the grub out of our mess kits. Imagine me walking up those narrow pitching steps to the deck and going to a place to sit down with a mess kit in one hand and a cup of coffee in the other. I soon learned to walk the deck like an old sailor.

"I don't feel much like finishing that outline today so will complete it in another letter. Hope you are all well at home."

The letter was written December 11.

NATURAL GAS COMPANY ORDERED TO FURNISH SUPPLY TO CONSUMERS

Wasteful Use of the Fuel is Forbidden in All Cases by Order of the Fuel Administration.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—It appearing to the United States Fuel Administration that the East Ohio Gas Company is about to discontinue the supply of natural gas to the Alliance Gas & Power company and that much hardship and suffering will result to the inhabitants of Alliance, Ohio, unless provision is made for a continuance of the supply of natural gas, an order has been issued to insure an equitable distribution of the supply of natural gas to the consumers in Alliance. The order directs the East Ohio Gas Company to deliver to the Alliance Gas & Power company any such quantity of natural gas as it may require.

The East Ohio Gas Company received from its direct consumers a rate of 35 cents per 1,000 cubic feet and it was accordingly thought proper to fix the price to be paid by the Alliance Gas & Power company at the same figure. The city authorities of Alliance have agreed to authorize the Alliance Gas & Power company to make a charge to its consumers of 33 cents per 1,000 cubic feet with a discount of three cents per 1,000 cubic feet for payment within 15 days after date of bill, and to take such other action as may be necessary to insure an equitable distribution of the quantity of gas furnished to the Alliance Gas & Power company among the domestic consumers, who under the regulation of the United States Fuel Administration are entitled to a preference in the distribution of natural gas.

Wasteful usages of natural gas, such as burning it all day to save the trouble of turning it off, are to be reported hereafter to the United States Fuel Administration, under an order, which says:

"It shall be deemed wasteful to burn natural gas by means of fluebores or open lights; to burn natural gas for the purpose of outside lighting during daylight hours; to burn natural gas in inefficient appliances; to burn more natural gas than is reasonably necessary for the purpose which it is intended to serve; or to consume natural gas in any other manner which is not reasonably efficient and economical. Licensees are hereby directed to report to the United States Fuel Administration all cases where consumers persist in the wasteful use of natural gas."

The order was issued because of instances where natural gas was allowed to burn carelessly, even when under meter regulation.
